About Le Petit Nid

Le Petit Nid has been sympathetically renovated into luxury yet quirky accommodation, full of comfort and charm for two adults and two children. Retaining many of the building's original features, including the huge iron horseshoes embedded into the walls as tying posts.

Step into the downstairs living room and you'll be immediately taken with the stylish yet child-friendly feel, stripy seaside sofas, a Jotul wood burning stove and discreet TV and DVD with UK satellite.

The galley style kitchen has every mod con and the antique cherry dining table, which seats four, has views across the gardens to the open fields beyond. Climb the stairs to the main bedroom with its comfy cherry-wood sleigh bed then step through into the children's room with its set of bunk beds and seaside decoration. The bathroom, which is across the landing, has a shower, WC and basin

Outside you'll find a sun-trap of a patio with BBQ, garden table and chairs. Perfect for enjoying a cup of coffee with your morning croissants or an aperitif in early the evening. There are swings and slides in the garden for the children and the newly installed Scandinavian style BBQ Cabin provides a spectacular setting for an unforgettable dining experience, whatever the weather has in store. Decorated inside with luxurious sheepskin rugs, striking Viking sculptures and reindeer antlers. The cabin is lit at night with hundreds of tiny fairy lights and candles and is designed with comfort and luxury in mind. It exudes a certain mystical magic as you feel the warmth of the fire watching the flames flicker as you grill and dine at your leisure. The perfect way to escape and unwind.

Le Petit Nid makes a dream hideaway for two adults or a couple with small children.
