About ANJOU

The self catering cottage Anjou is a traditional longerie built around 1800 and has a fascinating history having once been two houses in a sunny courtyard the occupants once worked in the vineyards of the chateau. As a longerie, or long house, Anjou benefits from very few stairs, just two leading into the bedrooms and three to the dining room. Sleeps 6 plus cots. Anjou is a wonderful self catering holiday home in the Loire France.

Anjou has been beautifully converted and has a very comfortably furnished lounge which features a real wood burning fire, exposed stone walls, we have uncovered some original beams. Your holiday cottage in the Loire France, Anjou is also equipped with TV, dvd, Ipod docking station and video player, hifi, books and games.

The fully equipped kitchen has a split level fan assisted oven, electric/gas hob, microwave, toaster, kettle, dishwasher, fridge for wine, fridge with freezer box and all the mod-cons that make this a real 'Home from Home'. Making your self catering holiday in the Loire Valley as comfortable as possible.

Anjou has 3 comfortable bedrooms with sprung mattresses, there are 2 double bedrooms and a twin bedded room. Separate lounge, kitchen & dining room. The large bathroom has a shower and hand basin, there is a separate W.C. We have endeavoured to fully equip Anjou with everything including a Dishwasher, washing machine, iron & ironing board, hair dryer, and a multitude of baby and toddler equipment including cot and high chair, to make your holiday in the Loire Valley a happy one..

The lovely garden has a lawn and wonderful roses and flowers, a stone built bbq and garden furniture. Ask about our other baby/toddler equipment, when travelling with your tots and toddlers.

The secluded garden at the rear of the property is safe and secure for children, as well as offering privacy. The front courtyard is enclosed and therefore makes your stay a peaceful and worry free time.

WiFi internet access. A no smoking and no pets policy applies.
